Tranquillity was not restored until nine of the leaders of the movement had been cantured by the Authorilies. The prime mover of the riot, however, as frequently happens, managed to effect his escape. These outbreaks are of common occurrence both in Malaya and the Dutch Indies, and give a great deal of trouble to the Authorities in those places. The Sarawak Government, as stated in our columns some time back, has passed severe laws against the Chinese Secret Societies, and only a short time since a man who was proved to have acted as the leader of a Hoey in that State was executed. Considering the Intal nature of the broils to which the societies give rise, strict and represive measures should be put in force against them. They are a standing menace to the perceable members of the Chinese community, and cannot, therefore, be too sternly dealt with. The governments of those countries to which Chinese emigrants flock in any number will act wisely in legislating against the existence of these Secret Societies. Although naturally of a most pacific and contented disposition, the Societies every now and then convert the Chinaman nuisance to the community.

THE Japanese Government evidently intends to prevent the Loo Chocans from becoming a source of contention between it and the Government of Peking for the future. It will be remembered that some time last year the simple people of Loo-Choo, tollowing their usual and ancient custom, sent tribute to the Emporer of Curva. They had for a long period sent tribute impartially to THE VARIOUS HOUSE FLAGS hitherto been said against the practice: After the Formosan difficulty, which was brought about by Japan espousing the cause of its Loo-Chooan subjects, the islands came into more prominence, and the movements of the inhabitants began to be regarded with a little more interest. The Japanese Government, after baving gone to great expense, and nearly plunged into NEW CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE war in order to protect their interests, seems to have turned more attention to this small. southern dependency. The efficer of the virtually been made a province of Japan barracks are, we believe, in course of construction, and a body of Japanese troops will be stationed in the principal island. Finally, a Japanese native paper states, that it has been settled that, if any Loo-Chooans wish to go to China for business purposes, they must apply for a permit from the Japanese Government. From all this it is plain that the Japanese have resolved to let the natives of Messrs. Wilson, Nicholls & Co. I the Loo-Choos know who is master of the group. There is now little chance of the Chinese Government receiving any more tribute from the Loo Chooans. It is ceru tainly just as well that there should be no more little mistakes of this kind. They are apt to cause a good deal of irritation and might even lead to a serious quarrel. The Japanese have done right to show the Loa-Coooans convincingly where their allegiance is due and expected.

SUPREME COURT July 25th. SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE MR. JUSTICE SNOWDEN.

THE CASE OP THE "JOAQUINA Y ANNA HOLCOMB v. HAYES. S1.000. Mr. Breroton mentioned this case, which was heard last week and in which judgment was reserved. Lordship said be would be very glad to help Captain Holcomb as far as the court owild, and about the towage there was no difficulty, but be was doubtful whether the court had jurisdiction as to the amount paid to the natives of the Pelew Islands, which appeared to be in the nature of salvage. Mr. Breveton contended bat it was a contract between the person in sharge of the ship, Captain Mann, and client, that the contract was to be completed by Captain Holcomb receiving payment in longkong, and that he had not been paid. into a dangerous disturber of the peace and part of the cause of action arising within the urisdiction of the court he urged that the court could adjudicate upon the whole, and referred his Lordship to several cases in support of the points he bid taken. A SOLDIER TUENED MONK.

At the beautiful chapel attached to the monastery of the Discalced Carmelites in Kensington on the morning of the 11th June, a small, but very select and atistogratic, company of Roman Outbolies assisted at what was to them an event of unusual interest. Lord Charles George Archibald Donglas, the only brother, and I believe, the beir-presumptive of the Dake of Hamilton, has become a Catholic priest, and on this occasion, at the Carmelite Chapel, lie sang his first solemn high mass. The ceremony was attended with much pomp. The rolling of the noble priest and of his deacon and sub-deacon were of the most gurgeous description, and the music, as it always is at this chapel, was apperb. Lord Archibald Douglas was born in 1847. He was educated at Eton. He was appointed a cornet in the 11th Hussars in 1866, and he was aide-de-onmp to Baron Napier of Magdala during the Abvesinian war. He is the son of the eleventh Dake of Hamilton and of the Princess-Mary, daughter of the Grand Duke of Baden and cousin of Napoleon III. His voice is sonorous and musical, and he sang the many

THE ULTRAMONTANES IN BELGIUM. From Brussels comes the information that very appleasant results are likely to ensue upon the Ultramontane victory in the country. A short time since a strong effort was made by M. de Lavaleve and other distinguished Liberal writers to ensure the success of their party by the establishment of a magazine which should be issued at sufficiently low price to enable the poorest to purchase it. It was called the Revue Bolgique, and the price was half a franc. The establishment of this journal has however, had no apparent effect other than that of stirring up the Ultramontane party to increased activity.

THE DERBY DAY, 1876. Since last on Epsom Downs we met Twelve months have passed away.
Now hall, the self-same jovial set, Another Derby Day.
The rising morn with joy we greet, Our hearts within us burn Hail, happy day, when blackguards meet, And Parliaments adjourn.
This one short day we cost away. The care that write on crowns, While prince and peasant, hand in hand, Are gambling on the Downs.
While cheerful shoutings loud declare, As o'er the heath we ream, Borne softly on the automer air, The Blackleg's harvest-home.
The "noble" and the manly strife These Epsom Meetings bring! The "crowded hours of glorious life" Within that betting ring!
Where is the heart so mean and low, Of baseborn scrdid serf. That beats not with an English glow Upon its untive "Turf?"
Let cynics scorn the whole affair, We heed not what they say, We'll deink and gamble, curse and swear, Upon the Derby Day.
Maintaining England's honour yet, We'll hold the highest place, Till every foreign land shall bet Upon the "British Race"!
-Evaminer.
These are the last words of Caliph Abder- Rhaman III.—" Fifty years have passed away since first I was Caliph. Riches, honours, pleasures—I have enjoyed all. The world, and human life.

"For our parsaits, be what they will, Are little more than shadows still; Too swift they fly, too swift and strong. For man to catch or hold them long."-Churchill. -The Quiver.
